

A defined asset. A defined purchase process.

Indicative terms for discussion. A signed agreement is required to bind either party.

Final engineering acceptance and broker DEMO qualification are pending. The accepted release and demonstration evidence will be added before transfer.

Transaction	Outright acquisition of the agreed FALBI proprietary production source and the seller's transferable rights. Software asset transfer; no company shares, revenue stream, customer base or seller trading accounts.
Opening ask	USD 24,900, negotiable after scope and fit review. This is an asking price, not an independent market valuation or a promised buyer offer. Price changes require the seller's written acceptance.
Seller identity	Vladyslav, independent FALBI owner. Full legal name, address and identity/payment verification are exchanged privately for the contract and funded transfer. No incorporated seller company is represented in this pack.
Included asset list	Accepted production source; integrated TA Trader layer; agreed technical documentation; release/delivery manifest and hashes; rights/dependency schedule; bounded handover. Exact included files are listed in the purchase agreement schedule.
Excluded materials	Secrets, tokens, personal broker/service accounts, private runtime data, raw logs, seller correspondence and internal commercial records. Third-party IP and service accounts transfer only where separately permitted and agreed.

Fund first. Inspect a defined release.

Proposed one-time payment. No instalments, earn-out or deferred sale proceeds in the baseline proposal.

Before funding

Agree the asset schedule, final price, accepted release and inspection criteria. Verify both parties and the receiving bank/country eligibility with the chosen transfer provider. Obtain an actual fee quote.

Funding

Buyer funds 100% of the agreed purchase price into an agreed escrow arrangement. The provider must confirm cleared funding before the seller delivers the complete inspection archive. No source is transferred on the strength of a payment screenshot.

Inspection window

Proposed three calendar days from confirmed delivery of the complete agreed archive. Start/end time and provider workflow must be agreed in writing. Acceptance checks the archive, documented scope, release verification and agreed demonstration evidence.

Rejection / remedy

A material failure against the written acceptance criteria is notified within the agreed window and handled under the signed agreement and provider process. Fix/return/refund steps and any extension are set in advance; silence is not invented acceptance.

Payment and rights

Funds are released after acceptance under the provider's rules. The proposed rights-transfer condition is cleared payment to the seller, as set out in the signed agreement. Before that condition, inspection access does not grant commercial use, resale or redistribution.

Fees and taxes

Baseline proposal: buyer pays the transaction/escrow funding fee; seller pays applicable disbursement and seller-origin marketplace/finder fees. Applicable taxes, if any, are stated before funding. Bank/intermediary/FX charges depend on the actual route.

Agree what survives the transfer.

Support is bounded. Broader rights and development work require a separate written scope.

Transferred rights

The seller's assignable proprietary rights in the specified assets, to the extent owned and transferable. The buyer may develop the acquired assets under the final agreement. Existing third-party terms and disclosed prior grants are listed separately.

Prior licence schedule

Any prior commercial, OEM, training-data, redistribution or exclusive licence must be disclosed before signing. A new non-exclusive licence can reduce the exclusivity available to an acquisition buyer; no incompatible grants are offered concurrently.

Bounded handover

Proposed 14 calendar days after acceptance, up to six hours total, by written correspondence. Covers source structure, documentation, configuration and delivery questions. No ongoing trading operation, uptime SLA, new adapter development or unlimited support is included.

Technical representations

Final acceptance is limited to the written release/scope and evidence criteria. No guaranteed trading profitability, prop challenge success, universal broker compatibility or undisclosed performance benchmark is offered.

Confidential review

Public materials contain no source. The agreed review process controls samples, evidence and access. A confidentiality agreement does not itself transfer IP or grant an operating licence.

Final agreement

Full legal identities, jurisdiction, enforceable assignment/licence wording, remedies and any liability terms are fixed in the signed agreement. This document records a concrete discussion proposal, not a concluded deal.
